

I oppose Sinclair Broadcasting's decision (and your approval) to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation and echoes Disney's decision to not distribute Fahrenheit 9-11.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. One sided political programs so close to an election is wrong! People need to be able to choose it. Why not offer it as a pay per view? I saw Michael Moore on Jay Leno last night...he looked right into the camera and offered Sinclair a free showing of Fahrenheit 9-11 on Nov. 1st. They should take up the offer! If Sinclair is allowed to show Stolen Honor, then they must balance it with a mandated showing of Going Upriver on their 62 stations. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
